Lightedge Cloud

The public cloud purpose built for your organization

Lightedge is changing the way you think about the public cloud. We offer the agility and flexibility you demand from the cloud, but we believe the cloud should be tailored to your organization's unique needs, whether they be compliance, security, business continuity, disaster recovery, or just friendly and easy to use. We are the enterprise cloud that welcomes all workloads, whether they be cloud-native apps built on containers and microservices, or legacy applications you can't seem to find a replacement for. Our flexible resource pools allow you to build and resize workloads dynamically with predictable, surprise-free billing, all while typically being more cost-effective than traditional hyperscalers. We also provide hybrid infrastructure managements services in the same facilities as our cloud, allowing seamless integration between the cloud and your physical infrastructure.

Most importantly, our cloud solutions aren't just certifiably secure; they are backed by proactive measures and transparent communication – when something's off, you'll be the first to know.
